

How to prepare your manuscript for publication in high-impact journals

Department of Business and Law of Bicocca University, in partnership with Charlesworth Author Services, invites you to this workshop

Hosted by Charlesworth Author Services

In this workshop, we will show you how to get the best out of your research and achieve publication success in high-impact journals, with useful insights into the perspectives of authors, reviewers, editors, and publishers.

We also invite you to take advantage of the opportunity to discuss problems and issues you may have experienced in your own work.

Who should attend

The workshop is suitable for all researchers, especially Early Career Researchers (CRS), who aim to publish their work in leading journals.

Venue and date

Tuesday 9 October, between 14.00 and 16.00 hours at the 4066, building U7, 4th floor, Via Bicocca degli Arcimboldi 8, Milan.

Content

- Inside the minds of editors and reviewers
- Avoiding rejection
- Why publish at all? Motivations
- Selling your work: What is my message?
- Understanding the impact of your research
- A road map for your manuscript
- Target journal selection: Who is your audience?
- Preparation for writing
- Writing an effective cover letter
- Writing your manuscript: Effective content for each section
- Editorial triage: Getting through initial journal review
- Making revisions, surviving rejection, and preparing for publication

The workshop is presented by

Professor John Dyke, Professor of Chemistry at Southampton University, and Dr. Chris Murawski, Academic Sales Manager

Professor John Dyke, in an academic career spanning over 40 years, he has published 300 research papers, supervised 57 PhD students and 32 postdoctoral fellows. He has a passion for mentoring students and teaching, especially early career researchers. More information here:

<https://www.southampton.ac.uk/chemistry/about/staff/jmdyke.page>

The Charlesworth Group has been supporting world-leading academic institutions since 1928. Our 80-year history demonstrates our heritage of commitment to good service and quality. Our team bring hands-on experience in writing for high-profile publications such as Nature and Science, managing journal submissions, and the peer-review process. We offer a range of editing and proofreading services to enable institutions and researchers achieve their publishing goals. For more information about our packages visit:

www.cwauthors.com